Notice

Authors may enter into additional contracts for the nonexclusive dissemination of versions of articles published in Forum Kritische Archäologie provided that their initial publications in Forum Kritische Archäologie are mentioned (for example for subsequent publications in anthologies or books).

Authors are encouraged to place links to their articles on institute or individual homepages, since this practice promotes exchange as well as the text's early and broadened reception.

For further questions, we would be glad to assist you via email.

Authors are also requested to sign the following statement prior to publication of their work with Forum Kritische Archäologie:

I/we confirm that this work is my/our product, that all sources used are appropriately referenced, and that I/we have permission to reproduce in digital form all images and data in my/our contribution.
